Hull Articles, Speeches Get Recognition

Dr. J. H. Hull, superintendent of schools, was recently invited by the National Citizens Commission to attend a special conference in Denver and also in Phoenix. At the latter conference, he contributed to the development of several publications which the National Citizens Commission is preparing.

Edits Manuscript
Recently he was asked to edit the manuscript on a book pertaining to workshop techniques in connection with citizens activities pertaining to their schools. A communication was also received from Henry Toy, executive secretary of the National Citizens Commission for the outstanding contributions made to that publication.

Addresses Association
The Superintendent also addressed the Southern Section of the School Business Officials Association on the subject of Superintendent-Business Manager Relations. The talk was so well received that it was published in both the County Superintendent's bulletin and a magazine called "School Business Management," published by California Association of Public School Business Officials.

The School District has had requests for many copies of this address from school people all over the State.

The August issue of "The School Executive" has an article by the Superintendent on "Principles of Public School Relations."

Nakatani, Taneda Elected by Group

Nobe Nakatani and George Taneda, both of Torrance, have been elected chairman and secretary, respectively, of the South Vegetable and Flower Center of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, it was announced here today.

The South County Vegetable and Flower Center has more than 200 members, most of whom are small growers with problems particular to any small business, Nakatani said.

Scout Dinner: All You Can Eat—Again...

Boy Scout Troop 219 is planning a Community Supper at the Sav-Mart grocery store at 23401 S. Western to be held Thursday, August 20, from 4 to 7:30 p.m., according to Mrs. R. Robertson, scout troop coordinator.

There will be "prizes and surprises and all you can eat," Mrs. Robertson stated.

Plans for the supper recall the successful scout breakfast held recently.

There will be juices, chili and beans, sandwiches, corn, ice cream, cake, coffee, and milk on the menu.

Proceeds will go to meet next year's scout expenses, Mrs. Robertson stated.

Tickets are being sold now by the boy scouts or they may be bought at the store or from Mrs. Robertson, F.A. 8-7385.
